The large sized angels also make nice shower favors or bridesmaid gifts. Just eliminate the halo and wings. Add a veil made of tulle attached to a ribbon rose. The angels made in thread make a cute car "air freshener. They also make cute Christmas ornaments (use Christmas potpourri or stuff pretty fabric with fiberfill.) Don't forget the hanging loop!

Assembly

Step 1: Lay the piece of tulle or fabric on a flat surface. Put the 2 cups of potpourri in the center of the square. (If you have a fragrance sensitivity, you can use fabric and fiberfill for this step.) Draw up the tulle or fabric on all sides, forming a potpourri “ball”. Tie or sew the tulle securely at the top of the “ball”. Trim the tulle or fabric close to the tie at the top of the ball. (If you’re making this in thread, use a 8” piece of tulle and 1/3 cup of potpourri.)

Step 2: Insert the potpourri ball in the dress/body piece. Pull the ribbon ends evenly to close the piece around the top of potpourri ball. (Like a drawstring.) Tie the ribbon in a knot, then in a bow and trim ends. Crushing the potpourri as necessary, flatten the bottom of the ball to fit the bottom of the piece, so that the piece stands without wobbling. Continue crushing and shaping the piece into a sort of pineapple shape, with the fattest part at the bottom, and the narrowest part at the bow. Pull round 17 of the dress up and out to form a ruffled collar.

* Pattern Note: The bow marks the front of the piece.

Step 3: Put a large amount of hot glue inside the collar. Line up the face of the ball head (if yours has a face) with the bow and attach the head with the glue. Glue on hair.

Note: If you’re making this in thread, you might want to insert a loop of ribbon or fishing line through the bead before glueing, so you can hang the finished project.

Step 4: Place an end of the arm/hand piece on either side of the head (under the collar) centering the ch 3 under the bow. Hot glue or sew the ends of the arms to the dress.

Step 5: Hot glue or sew the “ring” in the center of the wings under the back of the collar, directly opposite the bow.

Step 6: Hot glue or sew the crocheted part of the dress ruffle to the bottom of the dress to form a ruffle. (This should be done when the angel is standing on a flat surface...the ruffle should just extend to the flat surface.) The beginning and end of the ruffle should meet in the back, directly under the center of the wings. Tie a bow in the ruffle ribbon.

Step 7: Hot glue the joining of the halo to the back of the head. Hot glue a ribbon rose, charm, or cute button to the “hands”(the sl st’s in the center of the arms.)
